

Lisa Hunt, CAHIMS, CHTS

Director of Operations & Provider Relations

St Louis Physician Alliance & SLPA ACO

Lisa Hunt serves as the Director of Operations & Provider Relations for the St Louis Physician Alliance (SLPA) and SLPA ACO. In her current role with a Medicare Shared Savings Program Accountable Care Organization, she works with physicians in their transition from the fee-for-service world to value-based payment models. She helped launch the physician network with her employer, United Surgical Partners (USPI), in 2013 and served as the Director of Network Development growing the physician membership from its original 12 doctors to the current 550.

Prior to joining USPI/SLPA, Lisa worked for more than two decades in other St Louis healthcare roles focused on marketing, provider services and customer relations in a variety of settings including academic medical centers, community hospitals, physician practices and ambulance service.

Early in her career, she worked in marketing research and the banking industry where she developed great data & analytic skills which are put to good use in the evolving healthcare IT industry, especially in population health, a critical component of accountable care organizations.

Lisa graduated Summa Cum Laude with a Bachelors of Science in Business Administration from the University of Missouri-Columbia, majoring in Marketing. She is certified by HIMSS as an Associate in Healthcare Information & Management Systems and by AHIMA as a Healthcare Technology Specialist.
